

Muir MacKean – Governor Bio

I am Muir MacKean, a co-opted governor at De Bohun Primary School and a practising solicitor. In my day job, I focus on intellectual property law (and, in particular, patent litigation in the pharmaceutical, life sciences, technology and telecommunications fields). I studied Biology at university and am a scientist at heart.

I became a governor at De Bohun in March 2018, following the birth of my daughter. When it suddenly dawned on me that I was now (at least partly) responsible for the growth and development of a little child, I realised that I had a limited understanding of how a school functions and is managed on a day-to-day basis. My wife – a primary school teacher – suggested that becoming a governor would give me the best (re-)introduction to school life. As ever, she has proved to be correct – and my experience with De Bohun has been incredibly rewarding to date!

In my view, a child's education is of the utmost importance and provides the greatest foundation for a fulfilling and successful future. I am committed to helping De Bohun maintain its high standards and hope that the school will continue to offer its pupils the best education possible for years to come.
